Karl Steiner, born in Vienna in 1912, was a member of the "Schoenberg Circle" and is an exponent of the Second Schoenberg School, continued by Alban Berg and Anton Von Webern. He has made known the work of Julius Schloss, H.E. Apostel, and Hans Jelinek, members of the School, through the organization of concerts and his own lectures. A performer and piano teacher as well as music educator, Mr. Steiner has promoted an understanding of twentieth-century music, and has set up a library of the music of Julius Schloss at McGill University.
